

BE PREPARED FOR HURRICANE SANDY

Hurricane Sandy appears as though it may be heading up the east coast. Now is the time to start preparing to protect all of your Personal Property including your home, autos, and boats. If you want to follow the trajectory of the storm, click here and you will be directed to weather.com.

You may also want to check a great resource that is available from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) by clicking here.

As a precaution you may want to write down, or put in your smart phone, information on your insurance policies including homeowners, flood and autos. Key information needed in the event of a claim is the insurance company, their claims phone number and your policy number. In the event of a storm our office may be closed temporarily - reporting any claims to the insurance company directly will facilitate your claim processing. As soon as we are able we will be available to assist you with any claims and related questions.

Resources for protecting your Business during the hurricane are also available from Philadelphia Insurance Companies:
